SchnauzerFest 2005 Wrap-up

by Walter Galuszka

It rained, and then it rained, and the wind continued to blow and it rained some more at SchnauzerFest 2005. Midway through the weekend, everybody was expecting two of everything to begin walking toward us! Five days later now, and it's still raining!

Mario Hölscher was keenly observant about the dogs' performances, easily understood with his critiques and correct in his assessment of points in the competition - every point was earned! Wilfried Lohmann was most observant, accurate and also easy to understand with his judging and evaluations. We all learned a lot from both of these men, throughout the weekend, not only by their evaluations during the competitions.

On the other hand, the relentless stormy weather presented a true test of determination and ability for the humans and for the R/S, I think. The adverse conditions did make for a rough ride - record amounts of rain (6"+) and wind (20+ mph) made for considerable flooding in nearby areas. The fact that nobody pulled their entries is a strong testament to the sportsmanship of all the competitors. Even the spectators stayed for everything, in support of everyone.

The plentiful hot food was an enjoyable salvation for us after the full days' activities, along with the comraderie, the stories and fun that was included at the dinners.

The results are on the record and in the scorebooks. Training will continue, and performances will improve - no doubt.

SchnauzerFest 2005 was certainly an experience, not soon to be forgotten. All the competitors, judges, spectators, sponsors, the workers AND our Riesenschnauzers deserve to give themselves a pat on the back for their teamwork contributing to the overall success of the SchnauzerFest weekend. This is what our WRSF is all about!

Particular thanks again for all your hard work: Tracy and Richard, Susan, Pat, Siem, Julio, Jadiro, Laura and Kirk, Chantal, Bill, Vera, Bogdan, Maggie, and (of course) Martha. You all made it happen!
